Website Privacy Policy

Contemporary Leadership Advisors (CLA), operated by Garcia Fisher Gullette, Inc., provides this website. This policy explains what we collect here, how we use it, and the choices you have.

This policy covers contemporaryleadership.com. Information handled during client engagements is governed by our agreements with those clients.

What we collect

When you submit a form, we collect what you enter: your name, company, and email address when you request a whitepaper or other resource, and the contents of your message when you contact us.

Our hosting provider records standard technical information including IP address, browser and device type, pages visited, and the time of your visit. This keeps the site running and secure.

We do not use advertising tracking on this site, and we do not collect payment information here. We ask that you not submit sensitive personal information through our forms.

How we use it

To respond to inquiries, send the materials you request, send marketing communications where you have consented, improve the site, and meet legal obligations.

We do not sell personal information, and we do not share it with advertising platforms.

Marketing emails

If you consent when submitting a form, we may send occasional communications about our services, research, and events. Every email includes an unsubscribe link, and you can opt out at any time by using it or by contacting us.

Who else processes it

Service providers who help us operate this site and store what you send us. They may use the information only to perform services for us. We may also disclose information where required by law or in connection with a merger or sale of assets.

Cookies

This site uses only the cookies needed to make it work. We do not presently use cookies for advertising. If that changes, we will update this policy and ask for your consent before setting them.

Most browsers let you block or delete cookies in their settings.

Your choices

You can ask us to access, correct, or delete the information we hold about you, or to stop sending marketing communications. Contact inquiries@contemporaryleadership.com and we will respond within 30 days.

Security

We use reasonable technical and organizational measures to protect the information we collect, including encryption in transit and access controls. No method of transmission or storage is completely secure.

Children

This site is intended for business audiences and is not directed to children under 16. We do not knowingly collect information from children.

Updates

We may update this policy as the site or our obligations change. The date above identifies the current version. Material changes will be communicated more prominently.
